SOON THE PLANNING Commission is scheduled to make recommendations to the City Council on proposed modifications to the city's general plan that was originally adopted in 1960 and modified under the federally-subsidized '701' program in 1968.

In developing the recommendations, the planning commissioners have spent countless hours in public hearings on specific aspects of the plan.

In an attempt to gain a better insight as to what the citizens wanted in the general plan, the public hearings were generally held in the areas that were to be under discussion to give the people concerned with a particular section of town a chance to offer their "input" as to what they desired.

Only a relatively few took advantage of the opportunity but still there was enough of an "input" to give some guidance to the commissioners and planning staff.

Next Tuesday, August 15, the Planning Commission has scheduled what has been termed a sort of "wrap-up" hearing at which it is planned to hammer out most of the basic recommendations that will be presented to the City Council.

Obviously it will be no easy task to come up with a report that recognizes what modifications are necessary in the city's planning guideline.

And, quite as obviously, the recommendations will be criticized by some.

But what else is new?

SINCE 1968 WHEN THE original general plan was modified, there has been a change in emphasis on a number of planning fronts.

For example, in 1968, the all-encompassing "ecology" issue, which dominates the scene today, was not a paramount factor in consideration.

But just try to evolve a governmental guideline on any subject today without referring to the "ecology-effect."

And there has also been a change in concept, in Campbell anyway, as far as "density" is concerned.

Admittedly "density" hasn't the "glamour" attached to it in the case with "ecology."

But still the change in thinking on the subject in the past few years, locally, at least, is making quite an impact.

And we think the recommendations of the Planning Commission, as far as the Campbell general plan is concerned, will specifically involve "density" more than "ecology".

However, "density" and "ecology" have something very much in common.

Any attempt to generalize on either case is an exercise in futility.

They have different meanings for different people.

-0-

"DENSITY", IN A SENSE, is rather a nebulous term.

Over-simplified, it means how many dwelling units are allowed per acre.

As a case in point, some of the high-rise apartments have a density as high as 40 units per acre whereas in a single-family residential area seven units per acre is the optimo.

So how can a density equation be developed for the town as a whole?

The whole question of density then seems to be a matter of specific areas.

Conceivably there could be a spot in the city where high rise apartments would develop into 40 units per acre.

But it better not be too close to the areas where people are fighting for R-1 (single-family) zoning.

And to complicate matters even more, new state legislation that is soon to go into effect, specifies that the general plan and zoning must co-

Principal transfer causes protests

Residents in the Del Mar section of the Campbell Union High School District protested vigorously but to no avail at the school board meeting last Tuesday when the transfer of George Miskulin from principal of Del Mar High to Leigh High was confirmed by the board after a lengthy session.

Miskulin was one of five principals included in the recommendation by Superintendent Nicholas Montesano for the district schools that was approved by the trustees on Tuesday.

A large delegation of irate residents of the Del Mar sector of the district attended the board meeting to plead with the trustees to leave Miskulin at Del Mar. They emphasized that he had compiled an outstanding record during his tenure at Del Mar and, over the years, had developed an unprecedented rapport with both students and parents.

Miskulin, the senior principal in point of service in the district, will take over Leigh High School, largest in the district.

Miskulin, who came to the district in 1949 as instructor in physical education and later as district coordinator of physical education, has been principal at Del Mar High School since the school opened in 1958. Miskulin, who is also state president of the California Interscholastic Foundation for high school athletics, has an AB degree from San Jose State University and an MA degree from Stanford University.

Replacing Miskulin at Del Mar is Harold Sonntag, currently principal at Blackford High School. Sonntag, a graduate of Los Gatos High School, has his AB and MA degrees from San Jose State University. Before coming to the district in 1964 as supervisor of physical education, Sonntag taught at Los Gatos High School and had been coordinator of physical education and athletics for the Santa Clara County Schools Department for six years.

Before becoming Blackford's principal, he was dean of boys and assistant principal at Leigh High School.

Sign appeals go to Council

Coincidentally, two of the city's major retail outlet developers whose applications for non-conforming signs were turned down by the Planning Commission have appealed to the City Council to overrule the decisions.

The appeals will be on the agenda for next Monday, Aug. 14, when the Council meets at 8 p.m. in the city hall.

The two rejections by the Planning Commission took place a month apart.

On July 5, the Planning Commission turned down the request of Fred Sahadi for a 58-foot pole sign to be located at the southwest corner of the PruneYard.

In his application, Sahadi said that it was necessary for the sign to be visible from Highway 17 to direct people as to the proper route to get to the PruneYard.

In turning down Sahadi, the Planning Commission pointed out that it was city policy to prohibit signs that were orientated to the freeway and the policy has been followed in many instances.

Just last Monday night, the Planning Commission rejected two of the three signs requested in the application which was submitted by the new Gold Key furniture outlet that is not yet open at 600 E. Hamilton. The Gold Key is an affiliate of Federated Department Stores.

Approval of three signs by the furniture people had been requested. One sign, 609 square feet, that was rejected would be on the north side and would have letters 6½-feet "Gold Key Furniture," and would be 85-feet in length. City staff maintained that four-foot letters would be high enough.

The other sign that was denied would be 734 square feet with seven-foot letters, "Gold Key Furniture," 85-feet in

TO SUCCEED C. E. BRADLEY

Board names new business manager of school district

Dr. Arthur O. Bachelor, 40, with an impressive record in the school business field, has been appointed business manager of the Campbell Union (elementary) School District.

His appointment came at the conclusion of interviews by board members and Superintendent Jim D'Avis of the "finalists" of the applicants for the position. There had been 87 applications originally for the job.

Dr. Bachelor will succeed C.E. Bradley, business manager of the district since 1952. Bradley's resignation has been accepted as of Dec. 30, 1972.

However, Dr. Bachelor will be employed part-time beginning on Sept. 1, 1972. On Nov. 1 he will go on a full-time basis.

For the past year, Dr. Bachelor has served as vice-president of Educational Management Specialists, Inc. in Pleasant Hill, Calif. and for seven years prior (1964-71) he was director of business services of the Berkeley Schools. For five years before that he had been an administrative assistant in the Berkeley system.

The new business manager was born in Oakland, June 23, 1932 and after receiving his B.A. degree in education from the University of Nevada in 1954, taught in Fallon, Nevada for three years.

He received his master's degree in general administration from Utah State University and in 1965 was awarded his Ed. D. from the University of California, Berkeley, in school business administration.

His wife, Evelyn, is vice-principal of Campolinda High School in Moraga. They have two children.

He has been active in school business organizations and on various state legislative committees. He has published articles on school business operations and has lectured at Sacramento State and University of California.

Superintendent D'Avis explained that while Dr. Bachelor is on a part-time basis, he will be asked to conduct an in-depth evaluation of the district's financial situation. Such an evaluation would include any changes, D'Avis added, in school finance coming from the state legislature; estimated revenues from the current tax rate and what effect the "Watson amendment," if it passes, will have on the district.

Trustees approve $12.1 million budget for district

A revised budget totaling $12,115,068, up $590,167 over last year, was adopted by the trustees of the Campbell Union (elementary) School District on Monday night. The approved budget was based on the $2.55 tax rate that was approved by the voters on July 25. It was revised from the preliminary budget that had been given prior approval in June geared to the $1.80 rate. But a special 10-cent tax override also will probably be necessary stemming from excess vandalism.

The budget includes $185,-

Teachers suggest $$ refund

Because the district staff and trustees had allegedly failed to allow the teachers to participate in the proper manner in the figuring of budget priorities, a representative of the Certified Employees Council told the board Monday night that approximately $700,000 in district funds should be "refunded" to the public through a general tax decrease.

Carroll Bergdahl, of the CEC, comprised mostly of members of the Campbell Elementary Teachers' Association, said that the district had not met the conditions of the "meet and confer" process and all the priority items in the proposed budget did not have teacher approval.

Classrooms get okay

With the Campbell Union (elementary) School District facing a much brighter fiscal future because of voter approval of the continuation tax rate, the trustees on Monday took steps to acquire more classrooms for the district.

The go ahead signal was given to finalize plans for the long-pending six classroom additions at Hazelwood School and to lease first and then build the portable classrooms that are also needed.

Because of the uncertainty of the district finances, the district had not been able to confirm the continuation of the leasing of 15 portable classrooms from the Modulease Co. so that firm had recalled seven of the 15.

In a three-fold directive by the trustees involving about $400,000 in bond funds, it was specified; (1) continue the lease for one year of the eight portables remaining; (2) lease seven more for one year and (3) upgrade plans for the Hazelwood project and plan to build 10 portables to be owned outright by the district.

Commission holds final hearing on general plan

Prior to "formalizing" the report on approximately 40 recommendations to update the city's general plan that is to be forwarded to the City Council, the Planning Commission at the public hearing next Tuesday, Aug. 15, at the city hall at 7:30 p.m. will scrutinize the "San Tomas area."

The "San Tomas area" is the southwesterly portion of

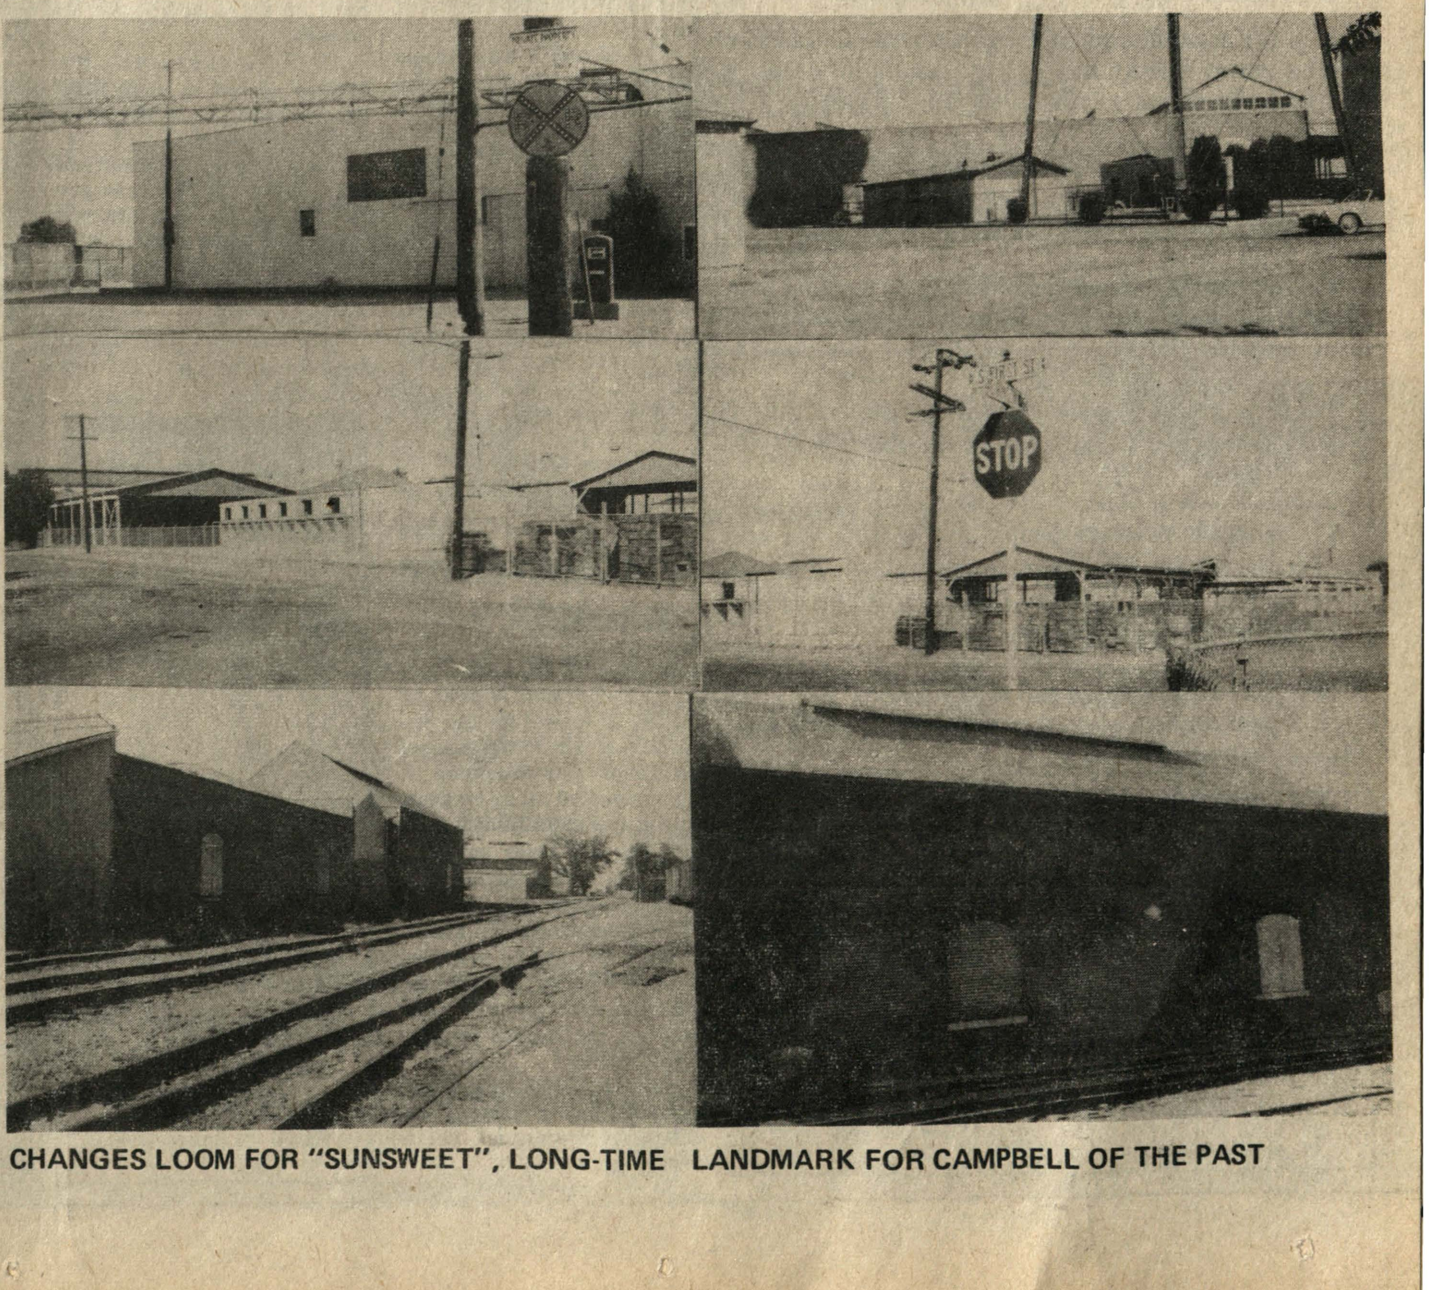
City to study Sunsweet plans

Because of the effect and impact any commercial development of the four-acre Sunsweet property will have on the downtown area, the Planning Commission on Monday night continued the public hearing on a zone change for the area. The continuance will allow time for a study session at which the plan can be reviewed completely before the Planning Commission officially acts on the zoning issue.

Richard B. Millen of Boulder Creek has applied for a change in the present industrial zoning on the property, as the first step in a development plan that proposes, according to the application, "to beautify and refurbish the industrial building to be used for shops, office, theater facilities, etc."



CHANGES LOOM FOR "SUNSWEET", LONG-TIME LANDMARK FOR CAMPBELL OF THE PAST

Editorial

A key location

Up for consideration before the Planning Commission is a proposed zone change and subsequent commercial development for a portion of the Sunsweet property on Central and First, just off of Campbell Ave. in the heart of the "downtown" sector.

Most of us have recognized that as the Sunsweet operation in this area diminished, sooner or later some other type of operation would take its place at the location which has long been considered the key for any future development of the downtown section.

For some time now, part of the Sunsweet facility has been leased for a restaurant and other activities without any basic change to the general layout which for so many years was the heart of the activity of this community.

However, the commercial development that is contemplated for the remainder of the Sunsweet facilities will very definitely alter the picture of the entire area.

Complicating the situation from the city's point of view, of course, is that the so-called "south loop" will eventually cut through part of the property and, obviously, this must have a direct bearing on any proposed development.

Of utmost concern also is whether adequate parking area is to be provided for whatever development is planned.

It is our understanding that some of the sturdy old buildings with their brick exteriors will be retained and will be an integral part of the future development.

We can readily see where that type of planning has merit and we can visualize how these old structures can be utilized.

Some city officials have expressed the opinion that the conversion of the Sunsweet facility into a commercial operation could have as great an impact on the community as did the PruneYard and Towers.

Quite obviously there are many major differences between the two. The PruneYard and Towers rose from a former orchard and is of a much larger magnitude than the Sunsweet situation.

But still it must be emphasized that because of its key location any proposed development on the Sunsweet property will have an impact far out of proportion to the acreage involved.

Shifting principals

A considerable uproar has resulted in the Del Mar sector of the Campbell Union High School District because of the announced transfer of George Miskulin from principal of Del Mar to that of Leigh High School.

Miskulin has been principal of Del Mar since 1958 when the school opened. During the years he has built an excellent rapport with both students and parents.

Because of Miskulin's success as principal, obviously the people in that area of the district are unhappy over the transfer. They would much prefer that he remain at Del Mar and they have made their position quite obvious.

The violent reaction of so many people in that section of the huge district to the transfer obviously is a tribute to Miskulin's ability and success as a high school administrator.

But while we find no fault with the people making their feelings known on the matter, we submit that such transfers are within the province of the superintendent with the approval of the trustees. It is not necessary to refer such actions to the people.

It is the superintendent's responsibility to administer the entire district in a manner which he deems is for the best interest of all.

Obviously there will be times that the superintendent's actions will be criticized and there will be an emotional outburst such as in this case.

We see nothing wrong periodically in shifting principals from one school to another if it is felt that such transfers will be beneficial to the district as a whole.

These moves, of course, should be part of a basic district policy and they should be accomplished without innuendos.

We reiterate that the people in the Del Mar area have indicated by their reactions that they appreciate the excellent record made by George Miskulin as their principal for the past 13 years.

But we caution them not to over-react and allow their emotions to cloud what we think is still a basic administration function.

incide.

That means, as a case in point, that the situation that existed in the recent celebrated Amato property zoning hassle supposedly will not arise again.

As you may or may not recall, in the Amato controversy the general plan called for a combination of low, medium and high density on the 32-acre parcel.

On the other hand, the entire piece was zoned R-1 (single-family).

But when a developer submitted plans for a project that in general met the zoning requirements, the residents in the immediate area rose up in protest.

They were adamant that only single-family homes should be allowed as per the zoning on the entire parcel.

And the City Council acquiesced to the residents' demands after a long drawn out battle that would have resulted in a referendum vote otherwise.

In the Amato case, "density" per se became quite an involved affair. But the residents really weren't interested in such matters.

They merely wanted a single-family development on the whole thing. Period.

Maybe the forthcoming Planning Commission recommendations on the general plan will clarify "density" to a greater extent than has been the case in the past.

We wish 'em luck.

AS LONG AS WE HAVE gone this far on this rather dry but important subject of the general plan modifications, we thought we should add an historical note. Sort of.

Our records show that since the general plan was originally adopted in 1960, there has been a complete turnover in both the City Council and Planning Commission.

The City Council was composed at that time of Henry (Whitey) Weitzel, mayor; and Jack Chappell (deceased); Pete Lico, Dick Mayne and Ed Rogers. On the Planning Commission were Jim Tomlinson (deceased), chairman; Bob Ferguson, Les Harmon, Homer Hyde, Thayer Lyons, Dick Salice and Lew Woodfill.

There was no city planning director at that time. The report was prepared by Nestor Barrett, who was employed by the city as planning consultant.

Ralph Doetsch and Dean Chamberlin are the only members of the present City Council who were on the council in 1968 when the general plan was modified.

And, at the present, there is not a single planning commissioner who was on the Planning Commission in 1968.

We only bring this out to call attention to the fact that a planning policy for a city is generally the result of individual or collective thinking of a particular group at a particular time.

However, it has to stand on its own merits and the test of time.

That is why it seems essential to review the general plan periodically as is now being done.

The passing of time changes the outlook.

YOU HAVE BEEN WARNed that incidents that occurred on our recent vacation into the heart of Mexico will probably find their way into this column from time to time.

So we don't want to disappoint you.

As a for instance, it is just as important in Mexico City as in San Jose to keep the flap buttoned down of the pocket which one carries his wallet, especially in crowds.

Bill Snyder, of Monterey Park, a long-time friend of ours who was with us on our Mexican jaunt, learned that in a very drastic manner. And he lost his wallet in the process.

Bill knew when it happened.

He was jostled by three young hoodlums and immediately realized his wallet had been grabbed.

He yelled what had happened to Bill Means, who was ahead of him, and the two Bills managed to grab two of the youths. The third took off.

Assuming that the third had the wallet, they called to a by-stander who grabbed the guy and held him.

The other two broke loose and got away. Ironically, one of 'em had the wallet. The other guy was a mere decoy.

The police were cooperative but they could not break the one hood down, although they tried quite vigorously at the station, the two Bills reported.

So Bill lost his wallet.

From then on, all of us (1) were careful to button the flaps; (2) carried our money in another spot; (3) kept a hand on the money pocket in crowds.

Obviously pickpockets ply their trade just as efficiently in this country as in Mexico.

But we couldn't help but wonder whether in this country under similar circumstances, would a bystander have come to the assistance of the person who was robbed.

Sure that's an academic question.-

And we don't plan to test it, if we can help it.

the principalship of Leigh High School to a dual job as director of the year-round recreation program for the district and Director of Williams Continuation School. Fowler, who has been principal at Leigh since the school opened in 1962, came to the district in 1961 as dean of boys at Camden.

Transferring from college in New Mexico, Fowler received his AB and MA degrees from San Jose State University. Before coming to the Campbell district, he taught history, political science, and physical education at San Jose Junior College from 1956-61.

Mark Guerra, now director at Williams, is taking a new position as Director of Intergroup Education. He will work with parent groups and compensatory education programs for the district.

NEW PRINCIPALS

Two new principals were appointed by the Board of Trustees to fill vacancies. Warren Glaze, now director of education at Blackford and principal of summer school, will move up to the principalship at Blackford. Glaze, who came to the district in 1962 as a science teacher, has a wide background of educational experiences. He earned his AB degree at the University of British Columbia and his MA degree at the University of California at Berkeley.

His years of previous experience include positions at the Haile Selassie Secondary School in Ethiopia, 1952-55; Norquay El School, Vancouver, B.C., 1955-56; Point Grey Jr. High, British Columbia, 1956-57; Haran Teacher Training School, Ethiopia, 1957-1960; Alameda, California, High School, 1960-61; Santa Cruz County Office of Education, 1961-62; Campbell District teacher, dean of boys, and director of education since 1962.

George Buonocore, presently director of education at Prospect High School, will be principal at Westmont High School. Buonocore, who has a BS degree from San Jose State University and a Master's Degree in science from Washington State University, came to the district in 1958 as a science teacher at Campbell High School.

He transferred to Blackford where he was science teacher, counselor, and director of activities. When Prospect High School opened in 1968, Buonocore was named to that faculty. Vitally interested in drug abuse education programs, Buonocore set up a communitywide program for the Saratoga area and is a member of the Board of Directors of the Halfway House program.

Buonocore is replacing Robert Culp as principal at Westmont. Culp, who has been with the district for 24 years as teacher and administrator, resigned to accept a position as curriculum director of the San Jose Unified School District's adult education program. Following graduation from San Jose State University where he earned his BA and MA degrees, Culp came to Campbell High as instructor in woodshop and wrestling coach. He was at Campbell High 21 years as teacher, dean of boys, vice-principal and for 12 years as principal. He left to become district principal at large and attendance director and two years ago was named principal at Westmont.

The sign that was approved, "Customer Parking," would be 112-sq. ft. with 8-inch letters and 28-feet in length. It would be on the north side of the warehouse.

In other matters on the agenda next Monday, the Council may award the contract for the Rosemary signal lighting project to the second low bidder. The low bidder Penn Electric had submitted a bid that was obviously in error and has since withdrawn it.

At the same meeting, bids will also be opened for city vehicles and for the sale of bonds for Local Improvement District No. 22.

Apartments, office gain approval

Plans for a 264-unit apartment complex that had been modified at the Planning Commission's suggestion were approved by the Commission on Monday as were plans for an office complex adjacent to the Hamilton Downs.

The 264-unit apartment complex will be located on N. Union Ave. and is bounded on the north by the Cardiff Affair and on the south by the driveway to Paseo de Palomas mobile home park. Highway 17 is on the west. Lincoln Property Co. is the developer.

Don Koll Company is the applicant for the office complex of seven buildings that will be located on 3.6 acres of land fronting on Hamilton and extending to Third St. The parcel is part of the former Gomes Ranch, the main portion of which is being developed by Hamilton Downs, a McKeon operation.

The Commission gave routine approval for underground gasoline tank at the post office to be installed by the Army Engineers and for an addition requested by Ugo Stefani in the San Tomas Shopping Center.

Zone changes were approved for property at 2325 Winchester Blvd. from R-1 to C-2-S submitted by Parnas Co. which plans to build a quick-stop market at the location and also for D&D Properties for a zone change (R-1 to R-3-S) at 825 Apricot Ave. which is indicated in the general plan for high density.

Two of the three signs requested by Gold Key Furniture were denied by the Commission as was the request of Wm. H. Briggs for an extension of time in the development schedule for a commercial and residential complex to be located at the northeast corner of Hamilton and San Tomas Expressway. The original plans for the property date back to 1963 and numerous extensions had been granted since that time, Art Kee, planning consultant reported.

Letters to the Editor

CRITICIZES TRANSFER

Dear Editor:

As taxpayers of the Campbell Union High School District who actively campaigned to help put across the last district tax increase, and as Del Mar High School parents, we resent the cavalier treatment given by Dr. Montesano and the School Board to the community's wishes.

The Del Mar School community was a good, effective tightly-knit organization that was headed by a very personable and extremely able administrator, George Miskulin.

Mr. Miskulin was not only a good administrator but was also a parent of Del Mar students and a friend of the students, parents and faculty.

The peculiar situation that existed for him at Del Mar will not exist at Leigh High School. He taught at Campbell High School, his children went to elementary feeder schools of Del Mar, and he has been a member of this community for more than the 13 years of his principalship.

We understand that Dr. Montesano has never taught at high school or been a high school administrator--his forte was in psychology. How can he fully understand the role that Mr. Miskulin--the person--has played in developing the Del Mar spirit?

It was not only the fact that he was a capable administrator but that he was a parent, a friend, a neighbor that built this team spirit.

To attempt to recreate--which is impossible--the same situation at Leigh High School, Dr. Montesano is willing to destroy the effective community team at Del Mar. At a time when schools are at their lowest political and popular level, Dr. Montesano demonstrates the coldness of the autocratic control of a distant executive by failing to take into account the wishes of the community and refused to reconsider his decision.

You can't blame the board --they have to back him even though some members may disagree in their own minds.

To fail to listen to the voices of those who have always given district support, Dr. Montesano shows extreme disregard for the individuals who have backed the district in the past. A strong group is now talking and perhaps will resort to some sort of legal action.

If nothing else, this will cause more bad press and ill will. Dr. Montesano who has apparent lack of feeling for the children and parents of the Del Mar community when he refuses to admit that there are other ways of action that he could take. He says it is for the good of the district.

Is it for the good of the district to destroy a known, healthy, working school--community relationship in the hopes of recreating the same at Leigh High School, Dr. Montesano?

Sincerely yours,
Kenneth C. Futterer

Electric peaks fall in June

The record books of Pacific Gas and Electric Company took quite a beating under the warm June sun.

The company broke previous records in peak electric demand served, energy sales to customers, the number of new customers added to its lines, and revenues.

And July may send the record keepers running back with their erasers once again. Preliminary figures indicate that July's hot spell sent the electric system net load to 10,470,000 kilowatts, another new record.

A June 30 electrical generation peak took place at 2 p.m. when 10,143,000 kilowatts of power were generated to serve customer's combined needs at that hour. There were no breakdowns as a result of the electrical surge.

Electric energy sales hit 4.2 billion kilowatt hours during June, a 12 per cent increase over the same month a year ago and the largest June sales ever.

Along with the social activities of the evening the group will discuss plans of their ongoing work at the Easter Seal Society Camp for Crippled Children and Adults.

RED CROSS

The American Red Cross, 333 McKendrie Street in San Jose, is looking for volunteer men and women.

Positions are available for women who can sew, assist in making layettes for military families and help put together items for disaster victims. Volunteers with clerical skills and people interested in arts and crafts are also needed.

For further information, contact the Red Cross office or volunteers at 292-6242.

BENEFIT GOLF---The Islam Shrine Clowns First Annual Golf Tournament will be held on Saturday, August 26, at the Sunnyvale Municipal Golf Course. A luau will be offered later in the evening at the Sunnyview Club in Mountain View.

The Shrine Clowns were formed to benefit crippled children and to perform as a unit at the hospital several times annually. Proceeds of the day go towards hospital work.

For tickets and further information, contact any Shrine Clown, or phone Frank Wong at 736-3731, Lloyd Lott at 286-4573, or Dean Osborn at 248-1717. Reservations must be made prior to August 15.

LOST IN HIS ARMS---Annie Oakley (Robin Merriam) sings "They Say It's Wonderful" with Frank Butler (John Healy, Jr., who also serves as director of the San Jose Children's Musical Theater production of "Annie Get Your Gun". The musical is featured this weekend at St. Francis Cabrini Hall.

"Annie" gets her guns at SJCMT

Annie Oakley, Buffalo Bill, Specialty Cowboy and Cowgirl Dancers, Indians, and High Society "Ladies and Gents" are all part of the San Jose Children's Musical Theater production of "Annie Get Your Gun" opening Saturday night at St. Francis Cabrini Hall on Camden Avenue (between Bascom and Union).

Shows are scheduled for August 12, 13, 19, 20, 26 and 27 with Saturday curtain calls at 8 p.m. and Sunday shows at 3 p.m. Two additional performances on August 20 at 7:30 p.m. and 26 at 3 p.m. will feature pre-teens in the lead roles.

Director John P. Healy Jr., who during the past year has directed "Wizard of Oz", "Oliver", "You're A Good Man Charlie Brown", "Pirates of Penzance" and "Cinderella", has cast this production with 150 youths from the area.

Assisting him are Carol Valenti, Nancy Heiser, Mark Healy and Bill Howard. Sets have been designed by seventeen-year-old Don Benson. Stage manager is Rick Dolan and assistant choreographers are Pat Carr and Darryl Darrin.

The SJCMT Orchestra, accompanying the show with string, brass, woodwind, keyboard and percussion instruments, is made up of young people between the ages of 11-22. Conductress is Patricia Healy.

"Annie" is a rip-roaring musical comedy about the humorous conflict between gun-toting Annie Oakley, a backwoods girl, and handsome Frank Butler. Their romance explodes in a rollicking rivalry brought to life through Irving Berlin's "Anything You Can Do I Can Do Better" and "You Can't Get A Man With A Gun."

Tickets are $2.00 for adults and $1.00 for children 12 and under. For reservations or other information, call 269-3738 or the San Jose Children's Musical Theater at 265-1490.

Danger lurks as flies take wing

Housewives unite!

You have nothing to lose but your flies!

Of all the horrible and ugly insects of the world, the common housefly is probably man's greatest enemy.

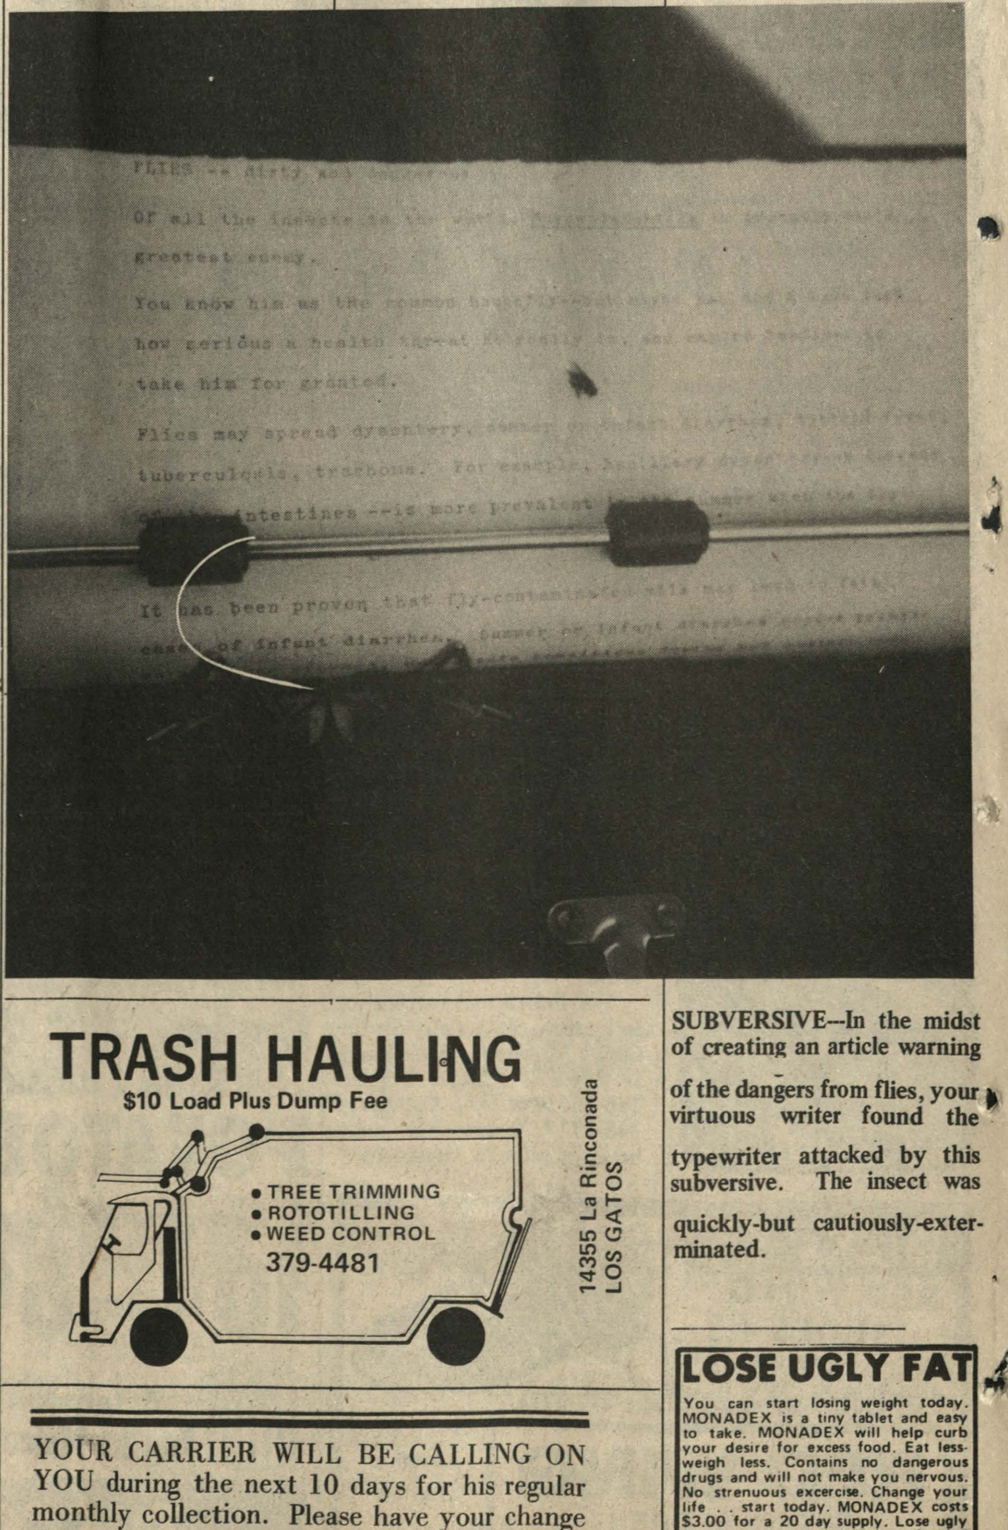
Yes, the noble fly, (musca domestica) can spread dysentery, summer or infant diarrhea, typhoid fever, tuberculosis, and trachoma.

The housefly can pick up germs from unhygenic facilities and spread them far and wide.

Flies are dirty, dangerous and disgusting.

In order to protect your homestead from the savage assault of these little unlovely bugs, follow a few basic sanitary practices:

1. See that window and door screens fit tightly and are in good repair to keep the repulsive creatures out.
2. Drain and wrap garbage to reduce fly-breeding.
3. Be sure the garbage can has a tight-fitting cover.
4. Store unused food and wipe up spilled foods immediately.
5. Keep your bathroom spotless.
6. Bury lawn clippings or spread them thinly to dry.
7. On farms or other places where animals are kept, manure should be disposed of at frequent intervals.
8. Sprays are effective, but use them with caution.



SUBVERSIVE---In the midst of creating an article warning of the dangers from flies, your virtuous writer found the typewriter attacked by this subversive. The insect was quickly-but cautiously-exterminated.

MRS. CRAIG J. STRANSKY

To live in Germany

Campbell High School graduate Toni Lee Sargent was claimed as the bride of Craig J. Stransky in ceremonies conducted in late spring at St. Lucy's Church in Campbell.

A full length sheer was the bride's gown and featured appliqued roses on the hem and bodice.

A short veil and a six foot train completed her costume. She carried a bouquet of yellow roses and white carnations to the double-ring ceremony.

Mrs. Donna Whitlow of San Jose served her friend as matron of honor, wearing a long satin gown with a yellow square neck and puffed sleeves. Lori Sargent, sister of the bride, wore an identical costume for her role as bridesmaid.

When Toni was given in marriage by her father, H.F. "Budd" Sargent, her mother, Nadine, witnessed the ceremony wearing a pink knit outfit on which she had pinned an orchid corsage.

The groom, a former West Valley College student, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Stransky of Morgan Hill. He is now serving in the U.S. Army. For the ceremony, his mother donned a beige afternoon knit with matching shoes and a daisy corsage.

Stephen Whitlow served as best man. Ushers were Steven Savidge, Don Sherwood, Stan Richardson and Mark, Glen and Eric Sargent.

The justweds greeted more than 150 guests at a reception following the ceremony at the American Legion Hall where they also cut a four-tiered cake, decorated with yellow roses.

The Stransky's plan to live in Bamberg, Germany, where the groom is employed as a combat engineer in the United States Army.

SHOWTIME --- Vickie Rania and Kay Hofer apply make-up on two young stars in the Campbell C.A.S.T. production of "Sleeping Beauty." Awaiting the performance are Peggy Clancy, who was a fairy in the show, and Don McFaren, who appeared as Prince Elano.

Summer workshop ends for student dramatists

A drama workshop created by the Campbell Civic Actors Seminar Theater in conjunction with the summer recreation program at Hazelwood Elementary School was recently completed.

Elementary through junior high aged youth participated in the production of "Sleeping Beauty," directed by Kay Hofer. High school students Vickie Rania and Babbie Bennett assisted Kay in the personnel and costume departments. Prop mistresses were Wendy Shoot and Kim Cook.

The title role of Sleeping Beauty was played by Debbie Eberly. Roxanne Chalmers was the wicked witch. Don McFaren starred as Prince Elano, with Barbara McFaren portraying the queen.

Other parts were carried by Dan Taylor, who appeared as the king, Lisa Rania and Michelle Miner, the lead fairies, and other fairies, Melinda Hausman, Colleen Clancy and Peggy Clancy.

Ella, the queen's attendant, was played by Aletia Wright and Gort, the king's attendant, was Howard Evans. Karl Moeller played Norbert, the kitchen boy.

The cast also participated in the Campbell Recreation Program's talent show last Tuesday at Monroe Elementary School with group musical numbers.

"Sleeping Beauty" will be presented again in the fall and will be open to the public. Dates and places will be announced.

Summer morning koffee-klatch

Ever wonder about those people down at the end of the street with the blue car?

How many kids in the family? Is the lady who comes to visit his mother or hers?

Well, finding out wasn't the purpose of the neighborhood coffee, but in the course of the morning, it was nice to find out.

No, it's just that Mrs. Mike Fujishin is a special person.

And being special, she does special things.

Like taking one morning of her two-week vacation to invite neighbors from Cherry Lane, El Caminito, Catalpa and Budd to the backyard of her California Street home -- to just "get acquainted."

"We see each other in the grocery store and we nod, but we don't even know each other's names," said the petite Helen.

Assisted by three of her four daughters, Melanie, Nanette and Teresa, coffee, tea and a few "goodies" were passed, as each of the neighbors were invited to tell a little about herself and her family. (Helen's daughter, Diane and son, Randy, were working.)

They discovered among their neighbors were teachers, travel advisors, retirees, artists and home engineers. Most were mothers or grandmothers.

All were pleased to meet the "lady in the green house" and the one with the "gorgeous camellias."

The morning was not without comedy as one lady told how her son was sleeping with his bathing trunks on because their dog persisted in falling in the swimming pool.

And when the morning was over there was a little closer relationship in the Campbell Elementary School area and some talk about "making this an annual event."

Thanks to Helen Fujishin.

DARTING AROUND

by Tom Carroll

This is the weekend of the Third Annual North American Open Dart Tournament run by the Southern California Darts Association. Many of our area darters will be flying down to Culver City, Friday night and Saturday morning.

Competition will start at noon on Saturday for the Ladies with the Doubles matches beginning around 3 p.m.

The best finish for any of our darters has been by Kip Fanjoy of Scarlet LaRue I. Kip finished second in the first NAODT and tied for fifth in last year's event.

Besides being a great dart competition, it is also a great social event. Darting activity usually doesn't end each evening until midnight. Food and liquid refreshment are available in the hall so very few people go elsewhere.

This gives one the chance to compare darting notes with players from other parts of the country and with our neighbors from Canada.

TWOMLOW COMES WEST

From Southern Cal's president, Tom Fleetwood, comes word that 1970 News of the World Champion Barry Twomlow will be in the Southern California area for a week in February.

Tom is now in the process of setting up some matches and appearances for him. Since Barry is a representative and good will ambassador for Unicorn, we wonder if maybe he might also be coming to the northern end of the state.

Barry is going to South Africa to see their National Championships. He says, "It should be very interesting in spite of a nine feet throw." "It's only seven feet where I live and six feet in Nottingham." In this country the throw is eight feet.

Tom shot against Barry at the Cleveland Dart Extravaganza. I don't remember the results except that they were disastrous for Tom.

S C D A SUMMER SEASON

The SCDA has completed their Summer Season of competition, and it was a credit to their allocations committee. Out of 16 divisions, only three had the championship decided before the final night of play.

In the Monday night Singles League, all three division titles were decided on the last night. Two out of the three Wednesday night Mixed Doubles Championships also went to the final match.

Two divisions in the Friday night doubles league ended in ties, necessitating play-off matches. Four other division titles were won by only one game and two other divisions were won by three and five games, respectively.

While the SCDA is as spread out as Nor-Cal, their teams are more prone to travel. This makes matching by ability a lot easier for them. Our Nor-Cal people in this area don't even want to go to Sunnyvale or Mountain View for a match.

Of course there are exceptions to this, notably Scarlet LaRue's I, and a few of the older teams that were in the association before we had two leagues and two divisions in the area.

Local Colts pace All-Stars

Campbell, winners of the 15-16 year old West Valley Colt League and the follow-up Tournament of Champions held at Campbell last week, placed five outstanding boys on the Colt All-Star team.

George and Gordy Hahn are both returnees from last year's All-Star team. Gordy led his team this year in hitting with a respectable .389 batting average. "At his shortstop position he could play a decisive part in West Valley's hopes for the title," stated manager Wayne Mitchell.

"George Hahn, a strong and capable catcher hit a fine .257 during league play. He can hit the long ball and has shown excellent team leadership," Mitchell said.

Tom Guardino, lanky first baseman, hit at a .281 clip. Tom scored 16 runs for his team and had eight stolen bases through the season.

Joe Adragna, right-hand hurler, struck out 64 in 57 innings. Joe's record was 6-3 with an ERA of 1.46. He has good speed and control.

Jack Freeland, ace right-hander, with a perfect 8-0 record had a fine 1.02 ERA. Freeland also played third base when he wasn't on the mound. At the plate he hit .244.

The All-Stars are participating this week in the Los Gatos Colt Baseball Regional Tournament which got under way Tuesday at the Los Gatos High School field. Games start at 6 p.m.

Colt stars begin tourney

Five representatives of the Campbell Colt League Champs will be playing on the all-stars for the West Valley Colts in the North Regional Tournament now in progress at the Los Gatos High School field.

West Valley met the Provo-Orem, Utah Stars last night. Santa Cruz meets the Seattle, Washington team tonight at 6 p.m.

ALL-STARS—Campbell Colt all-star players prepare for their second game in the Regional Tournament at Los Gatos this week. In front are Gordy and George Hahn, twin brothers and in back are Tom Guardino and Joe Adragna. Not shown: Jack Freeland.

Swimmers will go to Hawaii

The West Valley Aquatic Team is taking 34 swimmers to Hawaii ranging in age from 9 to 21 years old.

The Monoa Swim Club of Oahu has invited the local swimmers to compete at an A.A.U. sanctioned invitational meet on August 17 and 18. The West Valley stars will be guests in the homes of the Hawaiian swimmers for the one-week visit.

Local youngsters preparing for the Oahu trip are Kelli Troope, Cindy Trimble, Carol Busch, Amy Harper, Jamie Harper, Kit White, Tom Roche, Mike Miller, Buff Gallman, and Jeff Woodman, all nine to ten years old; swimmers between 11 and 12 include Pegi Colmery, Mary Busch, Ann Shiomoto, Katherine Wood, Mark Frederickson, and Jeff Symons; 13 to 14 year old youngsters are Becky Barrett, Toni Ferreira, Melanie Hitch, Jack Albertson, Tom Schulz; senior swimmers planning the Oahu trip are Cheryl Roberts, Janet Cockran, Mary Osterhoudt, Steve Austin, Steve Skidmore, Steve Miskulin, John Cleveland, Mark Watson, Don Boutry, Greg Smith, Pat Gordon, Tom Riley and Charlie Porter.

The swimmers leave on August 15. Three of the youngsters competing in the senior division of the team will travel to Hershey, Pensylvania the week before to compete in the Outdoor Nationals.

Swimmers leaving for Pensylvania are Janet Cockran, 16, Steve Austin, 15, and Greg Smith, 15.

Summer camp offers soccer

Every summer thousands of little people pack up their underwear, pajamas and a baseball glove, kiss their parents good-bye, and take off for a week of fun at summer camp.

But have you ever heard of a youngster packing a pair of soccer shoes instead of a ball glove? Such will be the case August 20-26 when West Valley College soccer coach Dick Schwendinger takes a group of youngsters to Walton's Grizzly Lodge "in the heart of Feather River Country."

Schwendinger's plan is to blend soccer with other outdoor activities to give boys profitable experience in each. The coach, who is also the founder of the tremendously successful West Valley Youth Soccer program, plans to run a sort of soccer clinic each morning of the week with camping, fishing and hiking activities in the afternoon.

"It's our intention to incorporate a sufficient amount of athletic activity into the total camp experience," said Schwendinger. "Hopefully the participants will improve their skills. But equal emphasis will be placed on some of the more traditional camp activities."

Fred Nourzad, a San Jose State star and coach of the SJ Kings, Frank Mangiola, an All-American goalie and Ohlone coach, and Dave Kingsley, another former SJS All-American, will all be on hand to aid Schwendinger at the camp.

The enrollment is limited and no more than eight to 10 boys will be assigned to one counselor. Interested parents should contact Schwendinger at WVC (867-2209) or home (867-2930).

MUSICAL TROUPE

Plans are being completed for the Campbell Civic Actors Seminar Theater's new tour group, "The New World Singers," to perform in late summer. This large ensemble, which is made up of three age groups between seven and 18, will travel to area civic organizations, PTA's, and similar groups to perform their musical numbers and specialty acts.

A few openings are left for any interested youths who are musically inclined or who may dance and play musical instruments. Interested persons may call 379-8885 or 266-3553.

UHF

UHF station-owners can delight in the 1970 census report that shows that 258,664 of Santa Clara County's households have at least one television set that is UHF-equipped. Census figures showed that 308,650 of the County's households had at least one television set.

Yankees win County Pony championship

Campbell - Moreland Pony League's JJ&R Yankees climaxed a thrilling season Sunday by dramatically winning the second annual Santa Clara County Pony League Tournament of Champions at Rincon Field.

After notching their own league championship two weeks ago when they emerged from the losers' bracket to win a doubleheader in the finals, the Yanks continued their winning ways by taking four straight in the eight-team double-elimination TofC.

The Yankees came from behind in Sunday's finals to defeat a gritty Cambrian Park team, 4-3.

Down 3-1 after five frames, the Yankees bounced back in the sixth inning to grab a 4-3 lead which they managed to cling to the rest of the way.

Lank Rowland, tying the game up when he laced a two-run single to left, continued all the way to third on an outfield miscue, then scored what proved to be the decider when Todd Osburg grounded out to second base.

Winning pitcher Miley Falke, who gave up six hits, preserved the victory by striking out Cambrian's Curt Ward on three straight swings with two away and the bases loaded in the seventh. For Falke, it was his 12th victory of the season against a single loss.

In the TofC opener last week, the Yanks came from behind twice to defeat East Valley, 4-3.

The Yankees tied it up 3-3 in the sixth inning when catcher Mike Fredenburg doubled and scored on Rowland's single.

In the seventh inning with two away, the East Valley pitcher walked Doug Sears and Howard Tokunaga before second baseman Roger Nolte ripped a two-strike single to right field to score Sears with the game-ending winning run. Winning pitcher was Osburg, who gave up two hits and fanned nine.

The Yankees exploded with a 16-hit attack in the second game, bombing Santa Theresa 17-4.

Leading the offense were Rowland, who collected four hits; Osburg, who smashed a two-strike pitch over the center field fence; and Howard Tokunaga, who came through with a perfect two-strike drag bunt single early in the game with the margin much closer (the Yanks scored 10 of their runs in the final two innings).

Fredenburg went 4-for-4 as the Yankees downed San Jose Westside in the third game, 8-1. Osburg, although troubled with control, gave up only three hits and was rescued several times by some flashy defense, a trademark of the Yankees all season.

Four infield double plays were turned over in the second and third games, and shortstop Ricky Roth figured prominently in all of them.

Leading hitters in the week-long tourney were Fredenburg, .507, and Rowland, .500. Members of the team received trophies following the final game from league president Rich Barry and tourney officials Joe McGrody and Ray Knight.

The Yankees finished the season with an overall record of 28 wins and 9 losses.

The team celebrated its success Tuesday night when team sponsor Joe Alvarez, owner of JJ&R Shoes, hosted a dinner at the Royal Fork.

One of the highlights of the evening was the presentation of a special award to infielder Bill Truan. Labeled the "Tough Award," Truan was acknowledged for his ability "to consistently produce, both offensively and defensively, in demanding situations." Truan alternated at first and third base all season, "performing ably at both positions."

All the players and many of their parents will attend the Athletics–White Sox game Thursday night at the Oakland Coliseum.

Rackets to swing

An age-group tennis tournament, open to all non-ranked tennis players between the ages of 8-16, will take place at the tennis courts of Westmont High School, August 14-16 from 8 to 11 a.m., according to Mary Finegold, director.

Those interested in participating can sign up at the courts at Westmont Monday through Saturday from 8 to 11 a.m. or call 374-4681.

An entry fee of 50-cents is to be paid on the first day of the tournament and registration deadline is August 11. Ribbons and trophies will be presented to the winners.

MORE THAN A MILLION

The 1970 census figures count 1,064,714 residents in Santa Clara County. Among the county's 967,092 inhabitants age 5 and over in 1970, 132,223 were living in a different county within California in 1965, and 102,416 in a different State.

Colts cop championship

The Campbell Colts won the Colt League Tournament of Champions on Tuesday, Aug. 1, by soundly defeating the Giants of the East Valley League 9-1.

Campbell was undefeated in the tourney, leading off with a 1-0 win over the Santa Clara League's Astros on Monday, July 24.

Jack Freeland, the winning pitcher, allowed three hits and struck out seven. Gordy Hahn scored the only run after he tripled and George Hahn hit to the shortstop, who made an error to score Gordy.

Friday, July 28, the local Colts blanked Santa Teresa's Oakgrove team 6-0. Pitcher Joe Adragna gave up three hits and struck out eight for Campbell. Of the nine hits collected by the Campbell team, Gordy Hahn got his share--a single and two home runs with three R.B.I.'s.

Saturday saw Campbell meeting the also previously undefeated East Valley group in a pitcher's duel between Campbell's Steve McGrody and Ron Leggett for Oakgrove. The score at the end of three innings was Campbell 3--Oakgrove 1.

The teams could have gone home then, because that was the end of the hitting and scoring for the day.

Campbell put three hits together in the bottom of the first (by Gordy Hahn, Tom Guardino, and George Hahn) to score two runs. In the third inning, Ted Bertron scored on a single and two throwing errors.

Sunday, Santa Teresa eliminated Santa Clara 8-7 to put them into the semi-finals against East Valley on Monday. East Valley won 2-1 over Santa Teresa.

The final game saw Campbell connecting with 15 hits to garner nine runs from East Valley's Leggett. Freeland held Oakgrove to three hits and one run. Campbell's George Hahn gained first on an error in the top of the second. Pete Fair got a base on balls. Freeland singled George home and Tom Laspina's base hit scored Fair.

The fifth inning exploded with Freeland leading off with a hit. Laspina doubled him home, John McMonagle singled, as did Gordy Hahn, who sent Laspina home. Tom Guardino singled and the other Hahn, George, did the same to score McMonagle and Gordy. Bertron base hit to score Guardino. Pinch-hitter Ron Reynolds singled Bertron home to end the scoring.

The Campbell Champs received trophies for first place in the Colt League Tournament of Champions and the West Valley League Championship in ceremonies immediately following the game.

Budget

500 for installing of fire and "intrusion" alarms in the district schools which is a necessity, the board learned, or otherwise the insurance carrier will boost the deductible limit of the district to $100,000 because of vandalism damages.

The installation of the equipment can be financed by a special 10-cent override, if the state fire marshal approves the system, C. E. Bradley, business manager, told the trustees.

It was pointed out that the drastic action was taken by the insurance carrier because of the increase in vandalism throughout the school systems in the state.

Superintendent Jim D'Avis explained that the district had been making some progress in recovering damages from parents whose youngsters had been apprehended for acts of vandalism. He added also that citizen cooperation was being received in the patrolling of school property and the apprehending and identifying youthful vandalism hoodlums.

D'Avis was directed by board members to publicize the vandalism and results, after Gordon Abbott, from the floor, urged that more drastic steps should be taken and that citizen patrols were helping.

Before adopting the budget, the trustees took the routine actions by rescinding a previous action that had cut 50 from the staff when the district was using the $1.80 tax rate to figure the budget.

The trustees also approved $1132 in dues for membership in the California School Board Association and $3,547 for the district's share in science and math programs under the National Defense Education Act. The total cost is $7,094.

The board also approved the Title I program in Rosemary, Hamilton and St. Lucy schools and directed the superintendent to file for the funds totaling $153,934 under the Aid for Families with Dependent Children provisions.

In an unrelated matter to the budget, the trustees gave official recognition to a new employee organization labeled Campbell Association of Professional Educators headed by James Veteran.

Hearing

the city and is the last section to be studied by the Planning Commission in a series of 16 public hearings that began last November.

Most of the hearings that have taken place were held in neighborhood schools in the specific areas that were under study.

The objective of the hearings was to review the general plan as it applied to the specific areas, mainly as to the land use element to determine whether the proper zoning area was in effect.

The general plan was originally adopted in 1960 and modified in 1968.

The review of the general plan was directed by the City Council following a recommendation at the Congress for Community Progress that the general plan needed up-dating in many areas.

College officials are predicting a total enrollment of approximately 13,800 this fall.

Those students interested in enrolling only in evening courses must also complete necessary forms this month. All interested students should contact the admissions office at 51 E. Campbell Ave., Campbell Ave., Campbell, telephone 379-1733, for further information about registration procedures.

HIGH SCHOOL BUDGET

Campbell Union High School District trustees, in approving the $18,779,206 budget for 1972-73, have indicated that by using some of the general reserve funds to cover the loan repayment increase to the state, it will not be necessary to raise the tax rate for the district. Earlier it had been feared that a seven-cent hike would be necessary to make the state repayment increase of $216,000 and to pay for the salary increases.

PRAIRIE POTHOLES
